DISTRICT

Catholics called to vote

by Tamara Collins

On Nov. 17th Catholic residents will be asked to vote whether they would like to see the Red Deer Catholic School system expand to Didsbury.

Last Tuesday an information meeting was held at the St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Didsbury. Approximately 17 Catholic residents and two School Trustees went to the meeting. According to Vince Ackerman, Development coordinator for the Red Deer Catholic School Board, the majority of the turnout was in favor of the expansion into Didsbury.

"Most people at the meeting were for the expansion," said Ackerman. "Also when we went door to door canvassing to find out how many Catholics were in Didsbury, and how many were in favor of the expansion, 88 percent were for it."

Two percent were undecided, and 10% were against it.

The biggest objective now is to get all the Catholics in Didsbury to come out on Nov. 17th to vote. At least 105 Catholics must turnout to the vote for it to be valid, that is 25% of the Catholics residents in Didsbury.

If vote shows the Catholic system is wanted in Didsbury, students will be bused to the Catholic school which will be opening in Olds next year.

The vote will take place at the Five O Club in town at 7 pm.

Special Visit

Lady Mary Soames, youngest daughter of former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, was in Didsbury last week. Soames enjoyed lunch with friends, at the Aspen Ridge Lodge before continuing on with a trip through the mountains.

Lawsuit proceeding despite election changes

by Dan Singleton

A $50,000 lawsuit launched last year by Mountain View County defeated councillor Linda Burrell against councillor-elect Arnold Shea is proceeding, said administrator Harold Johnsrude.

Burrell lost out to Shea in last week's election in Division 5.

Asked whether the suit will be affected by last week's election, county administrator Johnsrude said: "Unless I get direction from council, it continues."

According to a Statement of Claim filed by Burrell in Oct. 2003, Shea published or caused to be published a letter that was defamatory to her.

The claim reads, in part: "The letter was defamatory of the Plaintiff (Burrell) and was intended to, and has, damaged the Plaintiff's character, and her professional and personal reputation. The defamatory contents of the letter were false, and were published with malice, and were designed to permanently damage the Plaintiff's character and reputation."

The letter was sent to county councillors, MLA Ty Lund, and county administration. According to the Statement of Claim, the letter alleged, in part, that Burrell "was planning a criminal act" and "had blatantly abused her authority as chair person and Mountain View County representative."

The lawsuit seeks $50,000 in damages and costs of the action on a solicitor/client basis.

A Statement of Defence disputing the claims has been filed.

"Councillor Burrell was involved in a lawsuit with Mr. Shea and county council agreed to pay the cost of that lawsuit," said administrator Johnsrude.

Examination for discovery, a pre-trial procedure involving the disclosure of documents and other such things - has already been conducted in the case, although a court date has not been set, he said.

IN THE COURTS

Man assaulted bar patron

Man assaulted bar patron

A man who repeatedly struck another man in the face during a fight in a Didsbury lounge will be sentenced in December.

Jason Robert Culp pleaded guilty on Oct. 18 to a charge of common assault.

The accused was scheduled to go to trial on a charge of assault causing bodily harm, but pleaded guilty instead to the lesser charge.

The accused and the victim were in the Didsbury Inn lounge on Jan. 31, 2004 when a fight involving several patrons broke out, court heard.

During the melee the accused struck the victim in the face three times, causing the victim some minor injuries such as a fat lip and a swollen face, said prosecutor Danny Elliott.

Judge Foster ordered a pre-sentence report prepared on the accused. Culp will be sentenced on Dec. 1.

Man stole from employer

A man who stole equipment worth $3,000 from his employer has been jailed.

Troy Dwayne Miller pleaded guilty Oct. 18 to charges of theft under $5,000, failure to attend court, and driving with no insurance.

Miller, 29, took a test kit, gas monitor and cell phone from his employer and did not return the items on Nov. 6, 2003, court heard.

On Nov. 3, 2003 Miller went to an Olds glass shop and took windows worth $588 on Nov. 3, 2003.

He also failed to appear in court on two times. He also admitted driving a vehicle without insurance.

Miller, who served 25 days in pre-sentence custody, was jailed one day on the theft and fail to comply charges, and fined $2,875 on the no insurance charge.

Boy damaged crops

A 15-year-old boy who along with several friends caused $1,200 damage to a barley crop near Didsbury has been placed on probation.

The boy, who cannot be named, pleaded guilty Oct.

18 to two charges of mischief.

The accused and three others were 'playing soldiers' when they trampled a large area in the field on July 19, court heard.

The boys also used stick 'swords' to break off the tops of a number of small trees growing at the site.

Judge Fraser ordered the accused to pay $300 restitution, serve one year's probation, and complete 25 hours of community service.

Search leads to drugs

A man questioned by police after a window was broken at an Olds resident has been convicted of drug possession.

Daniel J. Patton pleaded guilty on Oct. 18 to possession of a controlled substance and failing to comply with a court order.

A patrolling RCMP officer was waved down by a female resident who said a man had broken her window, court heard.

The officer questioned the accused, who happened to be at the scene, and found 16 grams of marijuana.

Patton failed to show up for a court appearance. Judge Bruce Foster fined the accused $500.

Warrant led to drugs

A man picked up on an outstanding warrant has been convicted of drug possession.

David Brian Larson pleaded guilty on Oct. 18 to a charge of possession of a controlled substance.

The accused was picked up on a warrant and when he was being booked police found seven grams of marijuana.

Judge Foster fined Larson $150.

REGIONCHR confirms a commitment to safety

by Tamara Collins

In April the Calgary Health Region (CHR) emphasized its commitment to safety by assigning an internal team to review and strengthen the Region's current initiatives. This Safety Task Group has completed its review and has released its findings to the public.

"We know that to create a culture of safety, and design systems that are geared to reducing the risk of adverse events we need to work with our employees, patients and their families, as well as with government," said CHR CEO and president Jack Davis.

In order to reinforce this commitment the CHR is dedicating additional resources to patient safety, including appointing a vice president of Quality and Safety.

"I am pleased to announce that appointment today," said Davis. "I have named Dr. Ward Flemons, currently the Medical director for Quality and Improvement and Health Information, our new vice president of Quality and Safety."

"We know that to create a culture of safety, and design systems that are geared to reducing the risk of adverse events we need to work with our employees, patients and their families, as well as with government."

-CHR CEO and president Jack Davis.

This new role will make Dr. Flemons accountable for promoting a culture of safety, ensuring that patient safety is firmly entrenched into all care and services across the Region, and improving our systems to identify and minimize harm.

"I look forward to collaborating with our committed healthcare workers to realize the goals set out by this task group, this first report is just the beginning," said Dr. Flemons. "It provides us with the strategic direction we need to ensure that we are addressing the multiple dimensions of safety such as improved reporting, learning, communication, system improvements, and measurement of our progress."

The problems with snow

TAMARA COLLINS
EDITORIAL

Winter is here, the snow is falling, the days are cold, and the streets are messy.

Last winter many people came to me with problems they were having with snow piles. The snow was plowed so there were piles of it in the middle of many roads. This prevented people, especially the elderly, from crossing the street safely. This also gave cars little room to move, and some parked cars ended up getting hit.

Citizens do not want to deal with these problems again this winter. Didsbury is a town with a high population of senior citizens, this has to be considered when decisions are made about road care. They do not all have people to help them every time they need to cross a road, nor should they need it. Roads should be left so they are safe to cross for anyone. Seniors are not the only ones who could get hurt.

Remember, if you see someone who may need some help crossing in the snow, lend them a hand or an arm, someone is always watching.

Lets make this winter a safe one!

New bursaries and expanded residency programs put more doctors in rural Alberta

Alberta continues to improve access to health services for Albertans living in smaller communities. Two related initiatives will attract more medical students to rural family medicine and put more family physician residents into rural practice.

The first initiative is a new bursary program that requires recipients to commit to five years of rural practice once they have graduated. The second is an expanded residency program that will allow more medical students to experience rural family medicine.

"We want to ensure Albertans have appropriate access to the services of a physician no matter where they live in the province. These initiatives offer quality incentives to help attract more medical students to rural family medicine, and to establish their practices in rural communities," said Gary Mar, Minister of Health and Wellness.

The Rural Physician Action Plan (RPAP) has created 10 new bursaries under its Rural Medical School Award Program. Available for the 2005-06 academic year, the new bursaries will cover 100 per cent of a student's medical school tuition in return for a five-year commitment to practice in rural Alberta. Tuition includes differential fees and ranges from $12,000 - $16,000 per year. Alberta Health & Wellness and Alberta Learning will jointly share the cost of the new bursaries, which will be approximately $590,000.

The new bursaries complement an existing RPAP rural bursary program, where bursaries of $5,000 per year for a maximum of four years are provided annually to four Alberta medical students with rural backgrounds. In the existing program, there is no requirement to return to practice in a rural setting.

"The Government of Alberta is committed to encouraging and supporting students to pursue further education," said Dr. Lyle Oberg, Minister of Learning. "These new bursaries will help more rural students pursue a medical career and return to the communities they grew up in to provide a much-needed service."

The Alberta Rural Family

Medicine Network is adding 10 new rural residency positions in 2005-06, increasing the program to 30 positions from the current 20 positions. The additional residencies will cost about $814,000 more per year, from the current budget of $1.9 million for program infrastructure and resources. As residents, physicians gain hands-on experience caring for patients in community, clinical or hospital settings as part of their process to qualify for full medical licenses.

Residents under the Alberta Rural Family Medicine Network spend two years on rotation training among 16 rural towns such as High Level, Jasper, and Crownsnest Pass. Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Red Deer and Grande Prairie participate because these centres provide health services to large surrounding rural areas.

The Alberta government created the Rural Family Medicine Network in 2001 as a collaboration between the Rural Physician Action Plan and the Universities of Alberta and Calgary. Thirty-five physicians have completed the program since its inception in July 2001.

Wonderings of the heart

by Margaret Fradley

"How Do We Approach Our Day?"

Recently I ran into a friend, whom I had not seen for a long time. We had a brief sharing time, and for some reason our conversation included whether or not we were a morning or night person.

She told me she did not like to rise early, she liked time to "walk into her day" as she put it. I thought this a new and interesting way of saying she did not want to jump out of bed, rushing into the day.

As I thought about this, it occurred to me, that we need some time to gather ourselves together, time to let our souls catch up with our bodies, and refrain from rushing into our own agendas, taking time to plan our day, and perhaps thus refrain from making unnecessary decisions or unwise choices.

My conclusion was, I too, was one of those people who needed time in the morning to "walk into my day", prepare myself as best I can for what lays ahead, and desiring to do the best I can each day.

If we find ourselves rushing into the new day, let us remember to take time to be still. I feel sure our day will go more smoothly, and perhaps we will find ourselves at just the right place at the right time throughout the day.

Poppy Coin

Dear Editor;

'Beginning on October 21, 2004, the new poppy coin will be available from Tim Hortons locations across Canada. Tim Hortons, a distinctive Canadian enterprise, is the Mint's exclusive distribution partner for the poppy coin. Because coins are produced to meet demand, poppy coins will also be available at financial institutions in the months following the coin's unveil.'

Above is an excerpt from the press release of the Royal Canadian Mint. This raises some interesting questions. Why is one business (an American owned business - Wendy's) chosen to be the sole distributors of this important coin?

Our Veterans fought for all Canadians, not just a government-designated foreign-owned business. Why is this business more capable of distributing this coin than other stores in Canada? If the coin is to be available in all financial institutions across Canada, why single out one business to the detriment of all others? Is the government-owned Mint playing on our reverence for our Veterans to promote this business? Is this crass commercialism at the expense of our Veterans?

Remembrance Day is a time to give thanks to our brave men and women who fought and died for us, all of us. I fail to see how associating this coin with increasing business for Tim Horton's is in keeping with Remembrance Day. And associated with increasing business it is. No purchase. No coin.

Buy a poppy from a Veteran. And don't forget to say thank-you.

Rebecca Gingrich

New County Council looks promising

Dear Editor;

The election results, tabulated and publicized, do appear rather promising.

The new council members, I am optimistic, will surely afford decisions palatable to the Mountain View County majority taxpayers. Democracy is by the people, for the people.

When the new councillors names were confirmed, Kathy Blain and Arnie Shea specifically, I could not have imagined fate would be so kind.

Bill McCafferty

Slimming Alberta's 'Waste' - one bag at a time

Does Alberta need to go on a diet? If you ask in any area where landfills are starting to reach their capacity, they'll know we need to trim our 'waste'.

The province has set a goal to reduce the amount of waste going to landfills from the current 750 kilograms a year per person (150 bags) to 500 kilograms a year per person (100 bags) by the year 2010. That works out to every Albertan throwing out just one less bag of garbage a month, by reducing, reusing or recycling.

Alberta's waste reduction goal encourages the use of practical and effective approaches to reducing waste by recycling used electronics, properly disposing of household hazardous waste, and encouraging the practice of organics composting and recycling.

Reaching our waste reduction goal is important for each Albertan and every community. I strongly encourage you to take action to reduce the amount of waste you produce by reducing what you buy, reusing what you have, and recycling what you can.

DIDSBURY CHAMBER CHAT

Small Business of the Year Award Nominees

The Didsbury & District Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce the nominees for the first annual Small Business of the Year Award.

Designed to recognize Didsbury and district businesses that provide top quality customer service and community support, the Award showcases the entrepreneurial spirit found in our business community.

The Chamber encourages everyone, business or individual, to nominate the business they felt most deserving of the Chamber's Small Business of the Year Award.

Besides providing unsurpassed customer service, staff training and recognition, all nominees are active in the community, whether sponsoring sports teams, offering door prizes, or donating time and service for non-profit organizations. The Chamber is honoured to introduce this year's nominated businesses: CLT Contracting, Didsbury AG Foods, Didsbury Drugs, Didsbury Motel & Country Nook Restaurant, Didsbury Liquor & Beer, Household Goods Thrift Store, and Ward's Value Drug Mart. The award will be presented at the Small Business Week Gala on October 29th.

After a heated election, the new Mountain View County (MVC) council has been chosen and for many divisions that meant big changes.

For Division Two though Charlie Van Arnham was re-elected, bringing him into a second term with the County. Van Arnham took the win by 30 votes.

Van Arnham lives in the Cremona area with his wife Joanne. They have two children and two grandchildren.

For Division Three, Dave Derksen was also re-elected and will be serving his ninth term. Derksen was up against Henry Kuelker of the MVC Taxpayer Association (MVCTA). Kuelker finished with 207 votes while Derksen lead with 294 votes.

Derksen lives outside of Didsbury with his wife.

Division Four was ready for some big changes and elected Kathy Blain, secretary of the MVCTA, over incumbent reeve Ian Harvie, who in total served 3 terms on the council. This was a close battle with only 18 votes between Harvie and Blain.

Arnie Shea defeated incumbent councillor Linda Burrell of Division Five. Burrell served four terms on council, and in this last term was deputy reeve. Shea is presently being sued by the County because of comments he made to Burrell this past year. Shea received 257 votes while Burrell received 163.

In Division Six, Liz Negropontes received 306 votes, and was elected against incumbent councillor Ron Richardson, who received 175 votes after spending one term with the County.

In Division Seven, incumbent councillor Pat James was also defeated. Albert Kemmere received 298 votes, while James got 189.

Provincial Election 2004

A provincial election was called on October 25. Albertans will head to the polls on November 22 to vote for their Member of the Legislative Assembly (MLA) to represent them in the provincial government. Albertans will also vote for four Senators-in-waiting.

Voting stations will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Advance polls will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. from November 18-20. Addresses of Advance Poll locations are published in local newspapers and can also be obtained from Returning Officers.

Electoral division maps are available on the Elections Alberta website.

Wellness Art Contest

A Studnet Art Show consisting of students from Carstairs, Cremona and Didsbury to illustrate "What Wellness Means to me" was held in conjunction with recent Wellness Day at the Didsbury District Health Services, October 23.

The first place winner in each category will be sharing with their whole class, a healthy treat from the Didsbury Hospital, as well as a ribbon. Ribbons were also given to second and third place winners as well as honorable mentions.

The best of show went to Ross Ford 1A class who created a replica of a place setting complete with their place mats, napkins, name tags and the basic food groups. These winning entries can still be viewed at the hospital for the next few weeks.

Former Carstairs Bruin, Olds Grizzly player 'Making the cut' on CBC series

By Shaune Mohl

Just, who will make the cut? This is the question that sports fanatics across the country have been wondering for the past five weeks, as they sit down to watch the CBC sports series, 'Making The Cut.'

Similar to the hit reality show, Survivor - Making The Cut has brought players from across the country together, and at the end only six players will actually, 'Make the Cut.'

The six players who make it through the different rounds will be given an opportunity of a lifetime - to participate in an NHL tryout camp.

One of the players to toss his skates into the rink was Dannie Morgan, 24, who once played for the Carstairs Bruins, and later played for the Olds Grizzlies - before advancing even further in his hockey career.

There were seven cities across the country which players who thought they had the talent could try out at.

The City of Calgary was one of those cities, where over 1,000 players tried out - and one of those players to make it past the tough judges was Morgan, himself.

Morgan is one of three Calgaryans to make the try-outs, one of six Albertans, and more amazingly he is one of 68 players who was selected to move on - out of thousands of 'wannabe' players from across the nation.

After try-outs were held in the various cities across Canada earlier in the year, a two week try-out camp was held in Vernon, British Columbia.

"This is where the whole show was shot, except for the last episode," Morgan explained.

The last episode, where the six players will be announced who will have the opportunity to try out at the NHL camp, will be done live, sometime in December.

So far only five of the 13 episodes have run on television, and even though Morgan knows the results right up until the end, he can't say a word.

"Part of doing this, we were sworn to secrecy, so I can't say what happens - before the episode runs," Morgan said.

Morgan, who is a goalie, made it through the first three episodes - but was cut, and has been placed on the, 'Black Ace,' list.

Despite being cut in episode three this doesn't mean that viewers won't see the 'once hometown player,' make it back.

"All 68 are left. You can be cut and work yourself back up," Morgan explained.

As of the fifth episode, which ran last week, Morgan still hadn't made it back - but he has the hometown support of all the communities in the Carstairs, Didsbury, and Olds areas, who are hoping he can make it back to the try-outs.

Morgan, like many young boys, started playing hockey in grade two, at about the age of seven.

"My best friend - Mark Nielsen got me involved in hockey. He told me how much fun it was, so I tried it - and have loved it ever since," Morgan said.

Morgan grew up in the City of Calgary, where he played the majority of his hockey, before wanting to advance his hockey experiences - which required him to leave the city for these opportunities.

When Morgan wanted to leave 'community hockey' and start playing AA hockey, he couldn't find any team in Calgary to play on, which made him look north.

And, by him looking north is what brought the hardworking athlete to Carstairs where he played for one season for the Carstairs Bruins AA Midgets.

"We had a really strong year," Morgan said.

During his first year with the Bruins Morgan recalled having the most wins in league and he received the, 'Goaltender of the Year,' award.

Morgan's coach for the Bruins, at the time, accepted a job with the Junior A hockey team, The Olds Grizzlies after Morgan's first season with the Bruins.

By his coach accepting the job with the Grizzlies it gave Morgan an in and added to the success of his hockey career.

Congratulations to Mayor Dorothy Moore on her reelection and to our new councillors; Brian Wittal, Stan Neufeld, Ernie Ryckman, Stephanie Dodyk, Gayle Veno and Bob Davidson.

Thank You

Thanks to everyone who came out to vote in the civic election - especially those who voted for me - and to those who voiced their concerns about and solutions for the problems facing Didsbury. I regret that I never got to every residence in town, but hope that those who have suggestions or concerns will contact me and allow me to pass them on to the new Didsbury council. Hopefully, we will be able to deal with them. Special thanks to my campaign manager!

Bob Davidson

Thank You

Didsbury Minor Hockey and the Didsbury Bantam hockey team would like to thank United Oilfield and Tom Petersen for their donation of new home and away jerseys. This generous support enables Didsbury Minor Hockey to continue to maintain lower fees, and still provide our youth with up to date equipment.

Thank you from all the players and parents.

Flu Season is here, get your vaccination now

As the air chills and the leaves start to fall, we know that the influenza season is also just around the corner. With each new season comes a new vaccination, geared to cover the three strains of viruses that are anticipated to be most prevalent for each year. Vaccination is the single most effective way to prevent influenza.

Influenza virus is spread very easily by droplets in the air when an ill person coughs. The virus can live for up to 48 hours on surfaces such as doorknobs, toys and telephones.

Handwashing and keeping your hands away from your face are ideal ways to keep yourself healthy. If you are aware that someone is ill, avoid contact with them as they may transmit the virus to you.

The Calgary Health Region is offering free vaccination to a number of groups that are at higher risk of contracting influenza:

- health care workers
- adults 65 years and older
- anyone with pre-existing conditions such as diabetes, chronic heart disease, lung disease, kidney disease or a weak immune system.
- all children 6-23 months
- household contacts of the above
- pregnant women in their 3rd trimester delivering between Oct. 1/04 to Mar 31/05
- Household members of those who are 65 and older, under 65 with a chronic medical condition, children between 4-23 months and childcare providers for children 0-23 months are also eligible for free vaccine as they are considered potential transmitters.

Healthy adults and children should also be vaccinated. Those not eligible for free vaccination will be asked to pay $18 per dose at Calgary Health Region Clinics.

Several Vaccination clinics are being offered in October in our community. Call the Didsbury Health Unit for more information, at 335-7292 or call Calgary Health Link at 1-866-408-LINK (5465)

Foster Parents; Making a Difference Everyday

Eight-year-old Matthew (name change) woke up scared and cold this morning in a world filled with violence. But tonight he will sleep in a warm bed with a full stomach safe in the home of his foster parent. Children like Matthew who cannot live at home because of abuse, neglect, or parental issues count on the caring support of foster parents to overcome the impact of these traumas.

Foster parents choose to foster because of a love of children and a deep belief that they have something positive to add to the lives of children who have experienced abuse. Some foster parents, like Irene Mitchell, a foster parent with Aspen Family & Community Network Society, have themselves been foster children and want to give something back. Others have learned through parenting their own children that loving and raising children is their personal calling in life. Others welcome the opportunity to add more children to their lives and families.

Foster parents are often called "the bridge between", leading children safely and securely through their transition from lives of difficulty to a brighter future. They receive extensive training and support throughout their fostering. Aspen foster parent, Karen Savage comments, "You never feel alone. You always have the support of your worker and the foster care team." "Foster Parents are amazing people," says Ronni Abraham, Program Manager for foster care at Aspen, "they open their lives and hearts to children and youth who have had a rough start in life. They come from all walks of life and family circumstances. What they all share is a commitment to helping kids turn their lives around."

October 18th - 22nd is Provincial Foster Parent week, an opportunity for our community to express our thanks to the angels among us who take care of children and youth in need. If you would like more information about foster parenting or are considering becoming a foster parent, please contact Ronni Abraham or Tannis Smith at Aspen (1-403-219-3477).

Thank You Didsbury

For the opportunity to serve. To Mayor Moore, for her patience to manage a council that displayed such different philosophies. A big thanks to the town staff for the work that they perform daily. It was gratifying to hear a staff member comment the other day, "we can't please everyone all of the time, but I feel good going home at night knowing that I have left the town in better shape than it was the day before". My ambitions as councillor were only marginally realized, and for that I apologize. Although, I am proud of what was accomplished under difficult circumstances.

To keep the record in balance, I would also like to direct a comment at the group that signed a letter to the editor in last week's paper, namely: Dolha, Dahl, Kaupp and Versluys. This foursome left the impression that only four councillors did their best for the community during this term. I would like to invite anyone interested to find out the real facts.

Yours truly,

"Name the Cake"

by Lita Reid

Eleven members of the Jackson W.I. with one guest, Jean Luyendyk, gathered at Bernice Farr's lovely home on a rather wintry October 20th day. We were pleased to welcome Ev Robertson who is recovering from knee surgery, after which we sang Edelweiss to open our meeting. President Noreen Olson read an enlightening article on our Alberta Police Force. Nearly half of our members answered our Roll Call wearing a Halloween Mask and a variety of pranks were remembered: a car vanished when the home being visited, and memories of riding out on horses, Halloween dances where no one knew your identity until masks were removed, and one lady made a variety of costumes for herself and her husband by dyeing old underwear. An old couple were dressed up so convincingly that their children did not know them, and another saddled a cow. Then there were those who hid coffee pots, removed gates and even placed pelicans on lawns! Cars were hidden behind feedlots and there were even gunshots fired to scare away pranksters.

Secretary Darlene Hallett read the October 8th minutes, after which Treasurer Marie Olson brought us up to date on finances. There were 523 quilt blocks brought to our June AWI Conference. A big thank you to Kathie Reid for arranging the ones she brought home into such a beautiful quilt.

President Noreen highlighted several articles from the latest Federated News. Many excellent ideas can be gleaned from various Convener reports. Our Executive Officer for Alberta, Florence Bernakevitch suggested we have an international study on Finland for the coming couple of years before they host the next ACWW (Associated Country Women of the World). It was noteworthy to hear that 600 women from 60 countries attended last March's conference in Tasmania. All were reminded to make and bring a potholder to the Federated Conference being planned for Red Deer in 2006. It will be used as a 'mixer' and maybe even as a fundraiser. Also, remember to collect clear film canisters for bathsalts.

Darlene generously agreed to assimilate all of the information we have into a history of our Jackson W.I.

After considerable discussion, Elma Bird and Ev. Robertson made a motion that we book a table in the Gold & Silver Centre for the December fourth Winterfest.

We will serve the Didsbury Auxiliary Hospital Nursing Tea in Unit four at 2 PM on November 24th. Darlene Hallett, Dorit Bird and Lita Reid will make the lemon pies, and as many members as possible are urged to come to visit with the patients.

International Affairs Convener Judy Bellamy introduced her guest Jean Luyendyk who proceeded to show a video on Sino New Guinea where her son Kelly, his wife Sien and family have become missionaries. They arrived in New Guinea after intensive linguistic training in Durham, Ontario and Camdendon Missouri. Sino is a three hour flight from Port Moresby, a three hour walk as well as a two hour trip by motorized dugout on the Sepik River. The trek through the jungle across makeshift bridges and many streams is not for the faint hearted. There are 800 distinct languages in Papua New Guinea often breaking down to Pidgin. It takes five years to master a language - but English is now the official language. Sien and Kelly have mastered the language well enough so that when they return to Sino they plan to start translating the Bible. Learning the culture of the local area and people is most essential to working with the Sino tribes. They are a very superstitious people using sorcery as well. Bartering is a way of life and schooling a rare privilege, as the children have to be sent out of the region. There are essentially wet and dry seasons with temperatures hovering around 80 degrees F. in the highlands. Down in the lowlands it is very hot, muggy and humid. Kelly was very excited the first time he helped catch a crocodile - which the natives hunt and eat. Sweet potatoes are a staple food in the highlands where three and a half million people live. Kelly and Sien will be returning to the mission field next March with only Wes, their youngest child accompanying them. Judy and all present thanked Jean for a very interesting presentation.

Marie Olson's Bit of Fun was a quiz "Name the Cake."

Our November meeting will be another busy one hosted by Judy Bellamy. Remember to bring donations for the Women's Shelter. Visitors are always welcome.

Committed to responsible resource development

Keeping communities involved

As oil and gas activity continues to grow alongside rural communities, more lives are being touched by the upstream petroleum industry. Rural stakeholders are moving beyond wanting to be informed about industry activity to wanting to participate in the decisions that affect them.

Effective public involvement is one way to start. Through public involvement, industry promotes dialogue with communities to better understand their concerns, their past experiences and their knowledge of industry. Ongoing communication establishes or improves relations with stakeholders and builds a positive foundation for solving problems, reaching a common goal and making informed decisions.

The Canadian Association of Petroleum Producers' (CAPP) Guide for Effective Public Involvement is one important resource that teaches industry representatives about the fundamentals of community consultation. Recently updated, the Guide demonstrates a commitment to the development of best practices in public involvement.

The Guide is a core document of CAPP's Stewardship initiative which promotes responsible development, systematic management and helps CAPP member companies make continuous improvement in environment, health, safety and socio-economic performance.

"It's all about the relationship, not about the issues. With a relationship based on trust, honesty and respect, issues will be resolved successfully," says Bernie Schell, a community member in Drayton Valley. The guide is a great tool for educating the upstream petroleum industry on what communities need from them. The information is there and when used by industry, it can add to a mutually beneficial relationship."

The Guide for Effective Public Involvement teaches industry representatives about the fundamentals of public involvement.

Caring for the caribou

Due to the threat of predators and disturbed habitat, the population of the woodland caribou of the Alberta Boreal Forest has decreased in the past decade to the point where they are considered a threatened species. Increased industrial activity in the Boreal Forest has also impacted the caribou.

In 2001, several oil and gas companies and the Canadian Association of Petroleum Producers joined forces with the forest industry, Environment Canada, Alberta Sustainable Resource Development and the Alberta Conservation Association to sponsor the Caribou Range Restoration Project (CRRP). Past research on caribou behaviour in different areas of Alberta showed that linear disturbances such as roads and seismic lines and their associated impacts may have affected the caribou.

The CRRP is an ongoing project that aims to develop new techniques or best practices that will decrease the historical linear footprint and its associated impacts. For example, work is being done on re-establishing shrub/tree vegetation on old cutlines. Through these initiatives and continued research, the CRRP will continue to work at restoring a more natural habitat for the woodland caribou.

"Our goal is to manage our activities to minimize impacts on the caribou. Through the CRRP, government agencies and oil and gas companies have come together with increased awareness of caribou habitat management and research," says Carol Engstrom, Environmental Biologist with Husky.

Ron Bennett, from the habitat section of the Canadian Wildlife Service division of Environment Canada says, "The Government of Canada Habitat Stewardship Program for Species at Risk supports this project because it addresses issues facing woodland caribou in Alberta. The combination of industry and conservation groups working together to restore caribou habitat is a key feature of this project."

The CRRP develops new techniques or best practices to help restore a more natural habitat for caribou.

Up And Down The Fireman's Ladder

by Tyrone Patten

About a year ago I wrote that as the days grew shorter, so did my columns. This one will probably be one of the shortest on record.

Last article I mentioned that there was going to be an open house at the fire hall on October 6. It was one of the best attended open houses that we have hosted in a long time, there must have been 60 people drop by during the evening. As you may have read in the paper, Pat Dodman was presented with a Volunteer Services Medal by our local MLA Richard Marz. This medal was presented to Pat for being a volunteer firefighter for over 12 years. Congratulations Pat, wear your medal proudly.

Since last report we responded to 10 calls. They were:

Ambulance assists-4
MVC's-3
Alarm, no fire-2
Wildland fires-1

There were 6 calls during the day, 3 in the evening and 1 at night, for a total of 9.5 hours in the field.

Unfortunately I don't have anything from the archives, but next time I'll have something.

New Hospital will be opened

The Didsbury temporary Hospital Board have now made arrangements whereby the Old Hiebert home (now owned by Mr. Fulkerth) in the north end of town will be used for hospital purposes. A good water supply has been secured and sewer arrangements are being made, besides a few inside changes in the building. It is hoped that the building will be ready in a few days to accommodate the few patients that are still in the school and it will also provide accommodation for future cases.

The building and grounds are ideal for hospital purposes. Its grounds are spacious and it is in the open although within five minutes walk of the centre of the town. The building is a substantial one and Mr. Owens, chief engineer for the Department of Public Health, some two years ago stated to the then Mayor, H.E. Osmond, after going over the building, that in his opinion it would be a splendid proposition as a hospital. The hospital Board are to be congratulated in making these arrangements.

One of Didsbury's Early Pioneers Passes Away

Old time residents of Didsbury as well as the present residents will learn with regret that Mr. C. Hiebert passed away at his home in Calgary on Thursday last and that he was buried in Didsbury on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Hiebert had been in poor health for some time and the loss of his right leg, which had to be amputated a few months ago, also seemed to have a depressing effect upon him, but with all his troubles he pluckily started up in business again but finally had to give up and he went to Winnipeg to try and get relief but nothing could be done for him and he passed away as stated above. The funeral was private and was conducted by the Russian Mennonites.

The records of the early days of Didsbury contain Mr. Hiebert's name as one of the pioneers and early boosters for Didsbury. Coming here about the year 1901, from Manitoba, when there were very few houses and business places to be seen he took an active interest in village affairs and immediately started in to help give Didsbury its present standing. He was one of the first overseers of the village and took an active part in the incorporation.

The new $70,000 Rosebud Hotel opened for business on Monday last

Rosebud Hotel Opened to Public

The capstone of building operations in Didsbury was put on rebuilding operations in this town on Monday when the splendid new Rosebud hotel was formally opened to the public. This hotel is on the site formerly occupied by the old Golden West hotel on Osler street, but where the Golden West was a frame structure the new Rosebud is solid brick and tile and is the best equipped hotel on the C&E, excepting Calgary and Edmonton, and even these cities cannot boast of anything much better for the same sized house.

The equipment is as complete as modern appliances can make it, and no pains or expense has been spared to provide every comfort and convenience not only for the travelling public but also for the local trade as well, and because of its up-to-dateness and its close contiguity to Calgary it will be a great inducement to travellers who wish to stop at some place outside of the city for the week end where they can have the same conveniences without the noise and whirl of city life.

Although we must give a short description of the house the only way to realize what it really contains and how it is equipped it must be seen to be fully appreciated.

The exterior of the building is of red and brown brick, and while the appearance is rather plain it presents a neat, substantial look. The interior is much different; the walls are finished in rough plaster, tinted, and the woodwork is oak finish. The massive square pillars in the rotunda give this room a look of substantial construction, in fact the whole house reflects credit on its builders.

There is a concrete basement under nearly the whole of the house which contains a complete heating system and also a very large water system with electric motor pump for supplying water to the large tanks, the water being sent to the top of the house by compressed air.

On the ground floor is the dining room, offices, pool room, bar, kitchens, rotunda and laboratories. The dining room is as complete as money can make it, the bright new silverware and white napery, the beautiful fumed oak furniture and general bright appearance of the room would cause anyone, even the most dyspeptic individual, to enjoy the food set before them. The kitchen is also complete in every way with its huge range and immense steam cooker; everything is fitted for the most sanitary handling of food; this part of the establishment also contains two large refrigerators, one for meats and the other for any other purpose for which it may be wanted. The bar is fitted with the most approved bar fixtures, the woodwork being finished in beautiful mahogany and cherry. The rotunda is large and most up-to-date in its furnishings which are in keeping with the balance of the lower floor, the furniture being of fumed oak. Both the rotunda and bar floors are laid with ceramic tile which gives a very handsome appearance to these departments. The rotunda contains a complete clerk's office with all accessories for a large hotel. The pool room is also a fine large airy room and contains, besides the usual furniture for these rooms, a cigar and tobacco stand and barber shop. The travellers sample rooms are complete in every way and will be a great acquisition for the business.

The staff of the hotel now consists of: Head Clerk, J. McGill; chef, Geo. Moon, with staff of two; bartender, Al Whittepp; waitresses, Miss Smith, Miss Neff and Miss Barber; head porter, Jas. Fleming; night clerk, Albert Little.

The hotel will cost about $70,000 when fully furnished. The firms who had the work in hand were as follows:

J.E. Burrell, Architect, Calgary; A. A. Rose & Co., contractors, Calgary, with C. A. Birrell as Supt. of works; Young Plumbing Co., Calgary.

Family Journal

This great family journal has time and again spoken on the needs of a good live, active Board of Trade or some organization to look after Didsbury's interests, and so far there seems to be little response, although several of our residents have admitted that we need such an organization. The local Board of Trade can be made a very useful body. In many cases it has been found to put new life and activity into a seemingly dead city or town.

With a good membership and live officers at the head, the Board of Trade can effect wide measures of civic improvement and industrial settlement. It is greatly to the interests of the merchant and other business men who are more greatly interested in the town's welfare to help along the organization of such a board. In their own interests therefore, these men should be the first to affiliate and become active members and should endeavor to instill the same idea into their fellow business men and citizens.

Didsbury 5, Carstairs 0

The Didsbury football team went to Carstairs on Saturday night last to play a league game of football with the team of the town.

Although the game was a good one Carstairs ball chasers were outplayed to the tune of 5-0, but this was the first game they had played this season and something different may be looked for before the close of the season.

The Didsbury boys were in extra good shape and played a whirlwind game. Rooters who went down with the team state that they were on the job all the time.

The line up for Didsbury was as follows: Goal, L. Good; backs, N. Kalbfleisch and Reiber; half backs, Snyder, Mackay and McGee; forwards, Cole, Black, Topliffe, Kauffman and H. Siebel.

The credit for the score is given to Siebel 2 goals, Cole 2 and Kauffman 1.

The next game will be played on Friday night on the home grounds with Carstairs, and it is hoped that a good crowd will turn out to support the boys.

At a meeting held a few nights ago J. McGee was elected captain of the team and L. Kalbfleisch Manager.

The game at Red Deer with Olds on Monday - resulted in a score of 5-1 in favour of Red Deer.

On account of rain the game between Olds and Carstairs was not played last week.

Farewell Lone Batchelor

The Batchelor Brotherhood and their lady friends emigrated to the Batchelor hall of W. F. Simons and gave him a farewell party on Friday night last as Mr. Simons intends leaving in a few days for a visit to his former home in Salem, Ore., and will spend the winter there but expects to be back in the spring to look after his ranch. The first part of the evening was taken up with the initiation of a few of the batchelors who wanted to join the brotherhood. The candidates were Mr. Godfrey Carlson, our worthy thresherman, and his helpers. After they were let into the mysteries of batchelor brotherhood they fully realized that it took more than a big J. I. Case threshing outfit to complete this life's journey, so he announced himself a candidate for better or worse if the brotherhood saw it that way, and many of our fair ladies took notice and turned their smiling faces toward him and their chances are now two to one. Towards midnight the ladies spread an elegant lunch, after which everybody had a very enjoyable time and upon leaving wished their host, Mr. Simon, the greetings of the season, and a pleasant trip home and their wish to see him return early in the spring.

Ag Society Halloween Safety

With Halloween just around the corner it is important to start discussing and planning on how to stay safe on the big night.

In an effort to help keep children safe this Halloween, the Ag. Society will be selling glow sticks to make your child as visible as possible.

The glow sticks will be selling for only $1.50, and they are available at the Ag Society on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 am to 4 pm, and at Checker Auto Monday to Saturday.

"These glow sticks are a great way to keep your children visible this Halloween," said Connie Conley, Ag Society secretary.

"They glow in the dark and look great with all costumes."

These glow sticks can be worn as a necklace, on your head, or attached to your costume in your own unique way.

Remember, the more glow sticks you have, the more you will glow.

The glow sticks are on sale now and will be up until Halloween.

"Make sure everyone has a safe Halloween," said Conley. "Come and get your glow stick today!"

Connie Conley

RCMP offers staying safe tips for Halloween night

Didsbury RCMP Sgt. Gerry Ton has some helpful tips to keep everyone safe this Halloween.

"Kids need to make themselves as visible as possible," said Sgt. Ton. "There are glow sticks, flashlights, and reflective material available to attach to themselves somewhere, either to their costumes, or candy bags."

With all the excitement this night brings, it is important for children not to go running out into the streets, and to stay in well lit areas.

"Always look before crossing the street," said Sgt. Ton. "Drivers need to take it slow and watch for children."

Halloween is on a Sunday night this year, so it is expected children will start trick or treating early.

The weather will also play a big factor in the success of the night. Remember it is good to dress in layers, that way you are prepared for the cold, but can take clothing off if you get too warm.

Once the trick or treating is over, the safety issues do not stop, it is always very important to go through your candy, and get rid of anything not sealed or suspicious looking.

"It is a good idea for parents to help children go through their candies," said Ton. "You don't want to take any risks."

For those giving out candy, it is a good idea to buy candy that is wrapped individually.

"Everyone plays a part in how this night turns out," said Ton. "Let's all take extra care and everyone will have a safe and fun Halloween night."

Trick-or-Treaters

Carry a flashlight. Walk. Don't run. Stay on Sidewalks. Obey traffic signals. Stay in familiar neighborhoods. Don't cut across yards or driveways. Wear a watch you can read in the dark. Make sure costumes don't drag on the ground. Shoes should fit (even if they don't go with your costume)

Avoid wearing masks while walking from house to house. Carry only flexible knives, swords or other props. (If no sidewalk) walk on the left side of the road facing traffic. Wear clothing with reflective markings or tape. Approach only houses that are lit. Stay away from and don't pet animals you don't know.

Parents

Make your child eat dinner before setting out. Children should carry quarters so they can call home. Ideally, young children of any age should be accompanied by an adult. If your children go on their own, be sure they wear a watch, preferably one that can be read in the dark. If you buy a costume, look for one made of flame-retardant material. Older children should know where to reach you and when to be home.

You should know where they're going. Although tampering is rare, tell children to bring the candy home to be inspected before consuming anything. Look at the wrapping carefully and toss out anything that looks suspect.

Homeowners

Make sure your yard is clear of such things as ladders, hoses, dog leashes and flower pots that can trip the young ones. Pets get frightened on Halloween. Lock them up to protect them from cars or inadvertently biting a trick-or-treater. Battery powered jack o'lantern candles are preferable to a real flame. If you do use candles, place the pumpkin well away from where trick-or-treaters will be walking or standing.

Make sure paper or cloth yard decorations won't be blown into a flaming candle. Healthy food alternatives for trick-or-treaters include packages of low-fat crackers with cheese or peanut butter filling, single-serve boxes of cereal, packaged fruit rolls, mini boxes of raisins and single-serve packets of low-fat popcorn that can be microwaved later. Non-food treats: plastic rings, pencils, stickers, erasers, coins.

Spook Splash at the pool

If your child is between the ages of six and 12, they will not want to miss this years Spooke Splash at the Didsbury Aquatic Center (DAC).

The big event is planned for Saturday, Oct. 30th from 1:30 pm to 3:30 pm.

"There will be games, prizes, and refreshments," said Heather Caton, DAC assistant Aquatic foreman. "Costumes are also welcome."

Games will include woble pumpkins, a haunted house, guessing games, and a coloring contest.

This event has been taking place every Halloween since DAC opened.

"It is going to be a fun day for everyone," said Caton.

The cost of the event is $4 per child.

Olds' new mayor

Judy Dahl

by Carla Victor

A record number of voters has chosen Judy Dahl as their new mayor.

Of a possible 2,869 votes, 57 per cent of Olds' voting population, Dahl garnered 1,605 votes compared to incumbent mayor Norma Duncan's 1,219.

"I believed in the wisdom of the people of the community from the beginning and the people have made their choice," said a confident Dahl, from her home after election results were announced.

"I'm proud to have the support of the community and I promise to continue to listen to the wisdom of the community. I know it won't be easy, there are a lot of people with their own agendas but I'm really looking forward to working with council. I know we can do this."

Joining Dahl on council will be Kris Bojda, who captured the most votes of all councillors elected for this term.

"It is an honour to be first," said Bojda who is beginning his third term. "I'm glad the people put their trust in me and I won't let them down," he said.

Elaine Taylor is another new face joining town council.

Taylor garnered the second most votes of councillors elected for this term.

"I was pretty taken by that - absolutely in shock. It told me there are a few people who have faith in me. I will do for them whatever I can," said Taylor. "It will be such a learning experience, I'm looking forward to it."

The rest of council will be made up of Harvey Walsh (1,435 votes), Warren Smith (1,399 votes), Ben Coates (1,376 votes) and Scott Dundas (1,321 votes). Karen Stocher was the candidate closest to a seat on council with 1,226 votes.

Candidates Donald Ehrhardt, Darcy Dobush, Arvin Bull and Todd Allen were not successful.

Bridge to the Future

The Canadian beef industry has been dealing with the BSE crisis which has had an enormous economic impact on cattle producers and related industries due to the closure of export markets. The Alberta Beef Producers is building a bridge to the future - working to stabilize cattle markets, reopen trade borders and develop new support programs with government to sustain producers until new processing capacity is available in Canada. Attend your local meeting to hear the latest on BSE and make your concerns and suggestions known.

We're your FARM TIRE EXPERTS

Fountain Tire keeps you running in the field, on the road and down the highway.

Ask your Fountain Tire expert:
What's so special about those 'FI' tires that came on my new implement?

Terry Stevenson says: Since time is money these days, the agricultural industry wants to transport implements from dealer to farm and from field to field at a faster rate. Standard implement tires have an 'SL' suffix added to the basic size (such as 11L-15SL). The 'SL' means service limited to agriculture, and is limited to 40 km/h transport speed. Going to higher speeds required qualification to the same regulations that govern highway tires. To handle this need, a new classification of implement tire was developed. The 'FI' suffix denotes the highway speed-qualified implement tires can be used to transport implements. Even though the transport speed is less than the load rating on the 'SL' tires, the in-field load capacity of the tires actually exceeds the in-field capacity of the 'SL' tires. These new 'FI' tires, such as 11L-15FI, offer you great opportunity to improve the time efficiency of your operation.

Cut continued from page 7

"I tried out and played really well and worked myself onto the (Grizzlys) team," Morgan said.

Morgan played for the Grizzlys for one season and when he returned for his second season he was actually traded to Grand Prairie.

After playing with Grand Prairie for two years Morgan earned himself a four year NCAA Scholarship, where he earned himself a Bachelor of Science degree.

Morgan graduated from University earlier this year and over the summer he worked some part-time jobs to pay the bills, because he will be heading down to the United States, next week, to try to find a team to play with.

He hopes to land a position on a Southern Professional Hockey League team, which is considered to be AA Pro hockey - which Morgan will be collecting a paycheck from, if he is accepted.

Morgan says that the lasting and most memorable moments of his hockey career would have to be those spent in the Carstairs and Olds areas.

"I made five long lasting friendships there. They were truly some of my best years," Morgan said. "Playing in Carstairs was without a doubt a spring board for the rest of my hockey career. I might have quit hockey if I wouldn't have made the (Bruins) team."

Morgan reminds locals to watch CBC for 'Making The Cut,' to follow him to see if he actually lands himself a position in an upcoming NHL try-out camp.

Check your local TV listings for the exact time that, 'Making the Cut,' airs.

Act of Vandalism

Didsbury RCMP are investigating vandalism to two pieces of heavy oilfield/logging machinery on October 9th, 2004. Sometime overnight suspects started up a Caterpillar hoe and tried to tip over a Caterpillar Cat at a site located three kilometres east of the Forestry Trunk Road on the Burnt Timber Road. The equipment which belonged to Al Saunders Construction was damaged to the extent of over $50,000.00. The incident occurred during the early morning hours and is under investigation by Didsbury Detachment. If you have any information about this crime or any other Unsolved crime please call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS(8477). Crime Stoppers pays cash rewards up to $2000 for information that leads to an arrest, the recovery of stolen property or the seizure of illegal drugs. Crime Stoppers does not subscribe to call display and your call is anonymous.

Olds/Didsbury airport deal forges ahead

by Denis Remier

Thanks to advancement in talks and a Special Meeting of Council October 15, the towns of Olds and Didsbury are in the process of negotiating the sale of the Olds/Didsbury Airport.

Though talks have been going on for several months, the latest offer of $220,000 from Robert Jackson and Gerald Bakken of the Olds/Didsbury Airport Hangar Owners has piqued the interest of both towns.

The offer had an initial deadline of October 12, but was put over to October 15 to let both councils meet.

Now that they've discussed the options, both towns have indicated their support for the sale. In Olds, all councillors were in favour of the deal except Ben Coates, who expressed his thoughts via teleconference from Banff.

As the airport is jointly owned, the Town of Olds will receive $110,000 of the offer price. In addition, the town will no longer half the operating costs which, for Olds, has been budgeted at $5,000 per year.

The airport is now considered by most town councillors to be a liability, one that isn't making any money.

The recommended action at the Special Meeting of Council was that council pass a resolution to accept the offer to purchase the airport, conditional upon the approval of the town's solicitors, expected by October 29.

It is possible the approval may come in earlier.

Earlier in the year Mountain View County had approached the Town's of Olds and Didsbury with an offer-to-purchase, but the offer was rejected.

The new County administration building which has been given the go-ahead will be constructed right next to the Olds/Didsbury Airport.

Thank You

A thank you to all the people of Didsbury for the experience of being your Councillor for the past three-year term, ending this month. A special thank you to Mayor Moore for her extraordinary efforts to ensure that this council became, and remained an effective body for its term.

In retrospect, I believe we were an active and effective council that achieved a great deal.

In personal terms, frustration sometimes ruled my efforts to becoming a more effective person within the body, as the body was very well organized by a "block vote". Personal thought introduced to a pre-determined vote is extremely limited when the "block" holds power. The most glaring evidence on this "block" was the letter to the editor in last week's paper, signed by four of the seven members of the last council. What a shame! We, as seven sound and diverse minds, had the potential to tackle so much more, as individuals, of a team as a whole.

I wish Mayor Moore and the newly elected council a productive three years. May it be an experience that you will enjoy, and never forget, as you remember the progress that is made during your elected term.

STARS launches largest initiative in its history

STARS (the Alberta Shock Trauma Air Rescue Society) has announced plans to raise $24 million through the Vision Critical Capital Campaign for the purchase of two new helicopters and $1 million for the establishment of the STARS Centre for Medical Education and Research.

"Our population is growing and aging, increasing the need for STARS' service," explains Dr. Greg Powell, STARS President and CEO. "To maintain service levels we need to enhance our fleet of helicopters in order to increase our ability to respond to the needs of critically ill and injured patients." To-date, the fundraising effort has raised almost $16 million, primarily through generous individual and corporate donations.

New helicopters will also expand STARS' normal operational range by approximately 50 per cent, increase the geographic area covered by approximately 250 per cent, reduce mission cancellations due to adverse weather conditions and improve patient care by carrying more patients, more caregivers and more essential equipment.

The proposed STARS Centre for Education and Research will offer enhanced opportunities to practise and perfect emergency response treatments, provide a clinical best practices program, reduce medical error rates and strengthen the partnership between the groups involved in emergency medical services. An important component of the Centre for Education and Research is STARS' established and proven Human Patient Simulator Program.

The Alberta Shock Trauma Air Rescue Society (STARS) is a non-profit, charitable organization providing an emergency aeromedical transport system to critically ill and injured patients in Alberta and several communities in southeastern British Columbia. Funding for the program is provided through individual and corporate donations and through our relationship with Alberta Health and Wellness. Ongoing professional development, training and research are also significant components of the STARS program. Since it began in 1985, STARS has flown more than 11,000 missions.

Family Support to Children with Disabilities Worker

Alberta Children's Services, Didsbury - Are you a professional who can partner with families who have children with disabilities? Here is an opportunity for you to work with Alberta Children's Services to provide supports and services to these families that promote their child's healthy growth and development. The Didsbury Office currently has a half-time position available.

The Family Support for Children with Disabilities (FSCD) program provides a range of proactive and family centered supports and services to assist families in caring for their children with disabilities including assistance with some of the extraordinary costs of raising a child with a disability.

You will use your knowledge of family centered practice to work collaboratively with parents to create an Individualized Family Support Plan. The plan will outline the family's goals, supports and services required, necessary follow-up and planned outcomes. The FSCD agreement is based on supports identified in the Individualized Family Support Plan that are within the scope of FSCD regulations.

The family is an equal partner with you in this relationship and will have opportunities to participate in all aspects of the process. You will monitor the delivery of supports and services and review progress toward the achievement of outcomes. Also, you will help the family coordinate supports and services to address new or changing needs of the child with the disability as well as the needs of the family. In addition you will establish, cultivate and enhance working relationships with community partners to maximize support and services to families. Competition Number 25072. Salary: $23,514 - $29,130. Closing Date: October 29, 2004.

Live Stock Damaging Gardens

The fact that there is no one in authority to look after straying cattle and horses in town since the town constable, Mr. Sick, had to take a holiday is the cause of considerable damage being done to the citizens' gardens and the sidewalks, the owners evidently taking advantage for this reason. Besides several minor incidents of damage Mr. Fred Moyle lost practically all his cabbages and cauliflowers last week besides other stuff which he had taken great pains to raise and which he values at about $80. Several horses were also noticed late one night running all over the sidewalks breaking them down.

Those who have the authority should see that somebody is appointed to impound these animals until Mr. Sick returns. In these days of high costs of living when everything possible should be conserved it is a crime that such conditions should exist.

Small boys are also causing trouble in some gardens picking the peas and pulling carrots or doing other damage.

Didsbury General Hospital Proving a Success

The citizens of Didsbury and surrounding district will be pleased to learn that the recently opened General Hospital continues to serve the needs of the sick in the community, and even beyond the immediate vicinity. The hospital earnings for the month of November, as presented at the recent monthly meeting of the board, amount to $356.75, with a total of 96 1/2 hospital days. Several very severe cases have been successfully treated at the hospital during recent weeks, in fact the success attained is expressive of the efficient service the nursing staff and local physicians are able to give those who need hospital care and treatment. In spite of the abnormal difficulties with which the board have been confronted in their effort to secure necessary equipment and make necessary adjustments and repairs, the work of the hospital has proceeded with commendable success. The equipment of the hospital is now practically complete, including the operating room. A new well had been drilled, a pump and engine installed as well as minor repairs to put the water system in good working order. A new chimney has been built and the heating system put in better shape for the comfort of patients and staff, all of which has meant considerable initial expense.

The municipalities of Westerdale and Mountain View are both supporting this movement and Didsbury is to be congratulated upon having men on the Council who are alive to the necessities of the district and progressive enough to see that we get them. The expense necessary to equip the place is an item that must not be overlooked however and whatever means may be adopted for the purpose we hope, and fully believe, that it will meet with sincere approval. In the mean time should there be any person desirous of doing something that their townfolk will appreciate, nothing better than a donation towards the hospital equipment can be commended. After the initial expense has been met we believe the hospital will be capable of producing by the necessary fees chargeable to patients all that will be required but in any event now that we have started we must not rest content until we are sure that we have not only a hospital but one that for accommodation can compare with the best.

Mr. H.W. Chamber is representing Didsbury and Messrs. Pearson and Sturton the municipalities of Mountain View and Westerdale.

A Night Telephone Service

There has been some agitation in town for a continuous telephone service (night and Sundays) and we understand that a petition was circulated some time ago to be presented to the government for such service, so the following letter will explain itself to those interested:

J.E. Stauffer, M. P. P.
Didsbury, Alta

Dear Sir - Yours enclosing petition from the town of Didsbury for continuous telephone service received and will receive consideration.

You will appreciate the fact that night service would considerably increase the cost of the service which would in the long run have to be borne in some way by the parties interested.

Yours very truly,

Arthur L. Sifton.

It is stated that the extra cost will be $3 or $4 a year more to telephone subscribers.

No doubt a continuous service would be of great benefit to some of our business men for commercial use and also in case of sudden illness, but whether it will benefit a large number of the subscribers for the extra cost is a question.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Military Service Act, 1917.

Men 19 and 20 Years of Age.

Harvest Leave.

Leave of Absence on Ground of Extreme Hardship.
Procedure to obtain Leave of Absence

Men Nineteen and Twenty Years of Age.

It has come to the attention of the Government that there is a widespread impression that young men of nineteen years, and those who become twenty since October 13, 1917, as well as those who may become nineteen from time to time and who have been or will be called upon to register under the Military Service Act, are to be immediately called to the colours.

This impression is quite incorrect. No date has yet been fixed for calling upon such men to so report for duty, nor has the question been brought before the Cabinet for decision. In view of the need of labour on the farm, it is most unlikely that consideration will be given to the matter until after the harvest is over, although of course the Government's action must be determined primarily by the military situation.

There is no further obligation incumbent upon young men of the ages above mentioned who have registered or who do so hereafter, until they receive notice from the Registrars.

Harvest Leave.

Some enquiries have been received as to the possibility of granting harvest leave to such troops as may be in the country at that time. No definite assurance can be given on this point as advantage must be taken of ships as they become available. On the other hand, harvest leave will be given if at all possible.

Leave of Absence on Grounds of Extreme Hardship.

It is desired that the Regulations respecting leave of absence in cases of hardship should be widely known and fully understood. Such leave will be granted in two cases:—(a) where extreme hardship arises by reason of the fact that the man concerned is either the only son capable of earning a livelihood, of a father

Didsbury's Best Wishes Go With Them

Quietly and without any flag waving or blustering but with a fine spirit of cheeriness for others showing through it all a large number of our boys, members of the crack local battalion, the 187th regiment, took their final leave of us before going to the front on Friday evening last.

This is the largest contingent from Didsbury that has left all at one time since the war started, and naturally the depot was packed with the loved ones and friends of the departing heroes and many a wet face told of the sorrow that was being felt at their going, but with all there was no word of regret from those nearest and dearest because their MEN were going to take their place in this conflict of right over might, which should be a lesson to those left behind that they should also do their duty to the cause of the Empire in taking some active part in the many ways open or if possible to offer their lives in support of the great principles involved in this war.

Before the boys entrained Sergt. Gathercole was presented with two large parcels of cigars, cigarettes, chocolates and chewing gum to be distributed amongst the Didsbury boys on their way "somewhere." These goods were bought from public subscriptions through Mr. W. Farrington by the many friends of the boys in town. The regiment left Calgary on Saturday evening and there were a large number of Didsbury people present to see them off.

May the Almighty spare as many of them to return as possible will be the prayer of those left behind.

War Heroes to Speak in Didsbury

Arrangements have been made by the Red Cross Society for the appearance in Didsbury at the Opera House on Thursday, March 23rd, of three returned wounded soldiers to relate their experiences in France.

Privates H.R. Peat, R. Tickish and F. G. Wells should have an interesting story to tell as they will speak on the charge of St. Julien and the Gas at Langemark, besides many other things in connection with the great war. Their addresses will be supplemented by lantern slides of scenes from the front and patriotic songs.

This is the first time any of the returned wounded have given their experiences in public in Didsbury and it is hoped that the house will be packed to give these boys a welcome as well as to hear their interesting addresses. Admission will be 50c and the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross Fund.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Martin of Banff were spending a few days visiting friends here last week.

Mr. R. W. Cole of London, Eng. has been appointed to the Didsbury branch of the Union Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Ballard returned from their visit to eastern Canada and the States on Thursday last.

Mr. N. Brusso, of the firm of Durrer and Brusso, was a visitor at Calgary over Thanksgiving day.

Several hunting parties left town on Thanksgiving day for a days shooting and all returned with good bags of prairie chicken, partridge and rabbits.

Threshing operations in this district have come to a standstill because of the recent light snow-fall and the spell of cold weather that has set in.

R. F. Sanderson, who was formerly a resident of this district but who has been conducting a hardware business at Alix, has sold out to E. McClung.

The time will soon be here when the click of the "Stanes" on the ice will be heard, and the familiar salutation will be "Are ye goin to curl the night, mon."

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of England extends its hearty thanks to those who assisted in any way at the Bazaar held in aid of the Church on October 26th.

NEIGHBORHOOD

BANCROFT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Focus on the Family

QUESTION: I've always thought a man should be willing to work and sacrifice to reach his goals. I've heard you say "cool the passion and postpone the dream." That isn't the way I was taught.

DR. DOBSON: There's nothing wrong with having a passion and a dream. It should, however, be kept in balance with other valuable components of your life -- your family and your relationship with God being chief among them.

Let me illustrate that need to keep the various components of our lives in perspective. I read an article in the Los Angeles Times about a man named J.R. Buffington. His goal in life was to produce lemons of record-breaking size from the tree in his back yard. He came up with a formula to do just that. He fertilized the tree with ashes from the fireplace, some rabbit-goat manure, a few rusty nails and plenty of water. That spring, the scrawny little tree produced two gigantic lemons, one weighing over five pounds. But every other lemon on the tree was shrivelled and misshapen. Mr. Buffington is still working on his formula.

Isn't that the way it is in life? Great investments in a particular endeavour tend to rob others of their potential. I'd rather have a tree covered with juicy lemons than a record-breaking but freakish crop, wouldn't you? Balance is the word. It is the key to successful living ... and parenting.

Husbands and wives who fill their lives with never-ending volumes of work are too exhausted to take walks together, to share their deeper feelings, to understand and meet each other's needs. This breathless pace predominates in millions of households, leaving every member of the family frazzled and irritable. Husbands are moonlighting to bring home more money. Wives are on their own busy career track. Their children are often ignored and life goes speeding by in a deadly routine. Even some grandparents are too busy to keep the grandkids. I see this kind of overcommitment as the quickest route to the destruction of the family. And there simply must be a better way.

Some friends of mine recently sold their house and moved into a smaller and less expensive place just so they could lower their payments and reduce the hours required in the workplace. That kind of downward mobility is almost unheard of today -- it's almost un-American. But when we reach the end of our lives and we look back on the things that mattered most, those precious relationships with people we love will rank at the top of the list.

If friends and family will be a treasure to us then, why not live like we believe it today? That may be the best advice I have ever given anyone -- and the most difficult to implement.

So keep your dream and your passion. Work hard to achieve the success you crave. But don't let it become a 5-pound lemon that destroys the rest of your crop. You'll regret it if you do!

QUESTION: When parents need help with sex education, who do you think should provide it?

DR. DOBSON: It is my strong conviction that churches believing in abstinence before marriage and in lifelong marital fidelity should step in and offer their help to families sharing that commitment. Where else will moms and dads find proponents of traditional morality in this permissive day? There is no other agency or institution likely to represent the theology of the church better than the church itself. It is puzzling to me why so few have accepted this challenge, given the attack on biblical concepts of morality today.

A few parents who enroll their children in private schools are able to get the help they need with sex education. Even there, however, the subject is often ignored or handled inadequately. What has developed, unfortunately, is an informational vacuum that sets the stage for far-reaching programs in the public schools that go beyond parental wishes, beginning in some cases with kindergarten children.

"You Are My Sunshine" - we were hoping for some, didn't happen!!

by Eva Page

Four members & 2 visitors met at the home of Eva Page on Oct. 20th at 1:30. The hostess chose the song "You Are My Sunshine" - we were hoping for some, didn't happen!!

We repeated our creed & flag salute & recorded 26 hours of work for W.I. The Roll Call was our favourite way to serve vegetables. This varied from leeks in a cream sauce to a dish of carrots & tomatoes combined.

We collected 45¢ for each member for A.C.W.W. this was determined by 1¢ for Labour Day, 13¢ for Thanksgiving & 31¢ for Halloween.

Minutes were read & we thanked Susan Page for the special card she made for us.

One of our members won the W.I. special we sponsored for blue & white flowers at Lone Pine Fair in August.

The Executive meeting is Oct. 28th - we chose our handicraft special for this - Art Work - any media, any subject.

We will invite Lone Pine W.I. to our Ethnic Dinner at 12 noon sharp on Nov. 8th at Pat van Tetering's. Newsletters from A.W.I. President & President Elect were read. Home & Country will now cost $4.00.

Elsie Brander adjourned & then read her bit of fun, which was a play on words - very interesting. Lunch was served & Elsie also had the lucky cup.

Airdrie Rocky Mountain Lightning swept both games

Hard work, solid goal tending and timely scoring was the difference on the weekend as the Airdrie Rocky Mountain Lightning swept both games of a twin bill against the visiting Camrose Kodiaks.

The Lightning, after giving up a 3-0 lead to trail 4-3 at one point, got a goal from Josh Robertson with less than a minute to play to edge the Kodiaks 6-5 in the opener on Friday night, then out-worked the Kodiaks in the Saturday re-match en route to a 3-2 win.

The two wins give the team a record of 6-6-1 in the south division of the Rural Alberta AAA Midget Hockey League and keeps the Lightning in the thick of the battle for top spot in the division.

The home side jumped off to a 3-0 lead in the opening weekend game on the strength of goals from Harrison Tribble, Robertson and Yuzo Wakatsuki. John Lefebvre had a pair of assists on the first three goals and other assists went to Tyler Rasmussen, Dustin Schlichter and Mike Bannister. All three goals were scored on the powerplay. After Wakatsuki was cross-checked into the boards following his goal, a scrum ensued that ended with the ejection of Bannister, Schlichter and defenceman Colby Kramer along with three Kodiaks.

The momentum of the contest seemed to change after the third Lightning goal and the Kodiaks replied with two markers by the end of the second to narrow the gap to 3-2. The visitors continued to press in the third and went ahead 4-3 but the Lightning, battling from behind for most of the year, came back on a goal from rearguard Braiden Burke to knot the count at 4-4 midway through the third.

After Camrose went ahead 5-4, sniper Carson Rowat got his first of the night on a bullet drive to tie the score at 5-5 with five minutes to play. Rowat and Wakatsuki had assisted on Burke's goal and Curtis Doll earned the lone assist on Rowat's tally.

Robertson gave the win to the home side when he took the puck across the face of the opposition goal, waited for the Camrose goalie to make his move, then potted the puck in the open net for the winning tally. It was Robertson's second goal of the game and Rowat and Lefebvre, with assists, each ended the night with three points.

Aaron Dell went between the pipes for the home side and faced 41 shots in getting the win, many of the difficult variety.

While the first game of the weekend was a rough, penalty-filled affair with little flow and quick changes of momentum, the second contest was a tight, defensive battle that hinged on hard work and special teams.

Two of the three Lightning goals were scored on the powerplay and the team was able to kill off the final two minutes of the contest while ahead by one goal when Camrose earned two minor penalties. The Lightning defencemen continued their solid defensive roles while at the same time chipping in with two goals of their own in the contest. Rearguard Doll earned the first goal with Bannister, currently tied for second in league scoring, and Rowat assisting. Wakatsuki continued on his torrid scoring pace of late when he put the team ahead 2-1 later in the first. Rasmussen with his sixth assist of the season-a team high for defencemen-made a beautiful rink-wide pass to Wakatsuki who calmly deposited the puck behind the startled Camrose goalie. Tribble had the other assist.

The winning goal was scored by Tribble when he snuck in from the point on the powerplay, took a nifty cross-ice pass from Rowat and put the puck in the corner. Bannister earned the other assist on the play.

The Lightning netminding has been excellent all year and Garrett Sheehan was very strong in making 45 saves as the Kodiaks buzzed his cage on numerous occasions.

The home side attracted a large crowd at the Carstairs Arena for both games. The Lightning go on the road for a pair of games in Fort McMurray this weekend.

Sports Halloween Games

New Halloween coming with Halloween names,

Get ready, set, on guard for spooky sports games.

To curlers at large, beware trick or treat louse,

Bewitching your rocks to play stoned, haunted, house.

To all football fans, give October its due,

Lest Halloween games befall your team....or YOU!

A rumble, a fumble, vile series of plays,

Sports Halloween lives in most frightening ways.

Triathlon monsters! You, blisters, scrapes, lumps,

Sports Halloween costumes of bumpitybumps.

It's spooky, it's kooky, like Frankenstein's tale,

Take heed of sports Halloween ghosts on the trail.

Though no one believes in what Hobgoblins do,

Still, hockey is gone! Pray...what trick made THAT true!

WHO'S PROTECTING OUR CHILDREN?

On March 26th, the BC Supreme Court ruled that written material describing "sadoomasochistic scenes of violence and sex directed at boys generally 12 years of age and younger", HAS ARTISTIC MERIT and IS LEGAL.

That decision is an outrage.

Child Pornography is Child Abuse. It must be stopped.

Tell the Prime Minister, the Minister of Justice, and your MP that Canada must act now to outlaw all child pornography.
